

CENTRE FOR BUSINESS VENTURING

IMPROVING THE ODDS OF SUCCESS FOR NEW VENTURES

We are pleased to announce the appointment of

PAUL N. HYDE ENTREPRENEUR IN RESIDENCE

The Centre's first Entrepreneur in Residence, Paul Hyde brings a wealth of hands-on experience and expertise to the students and programs of Queen's School of Business. His career has included several senior management positions at Nortel Networks, both in Canada and Europe. In 1990, he took over TIL Systems, an insolvent data communications company. Mr. Hyde restructured TIL to form Kasten Chase Applied Research, which he transformed into a leading systems and data security provider for the global financial services industry. More recently, Mr. Hyde has been both a director of, and mentor to, a variety of Canadian new ventures.

The Centre for Business Venturing is committed to improving the odds of success for new ventures, with a focus on being the leading and definitive source of knowledge and expertise in their creation, leadership and management.

For more information about Queen's School of Business Centre for Business Venturing, or to find out about its programs and how you can get involved, please call 1.877.955.1800, e-mail qcbv@business.queensu.ca or visit www.qcbv.com.